

Asset Management Conference

Taking the Next Step in the Asset Management Journey

October 29-30, 2019 • Phoenix, AZ

Overview

The 3rd Annual CEATI Asset Management Conference will bring together subject-matter experts; asset management professionals from generation, transmission, and distribution; academics; and innovative thinkers to discuss developments on their asset management journey. This conference will be in a forward-looking forum designed to guide utilities in the right direction, with the right tools, and with the support and guidance of their peers and the industry.

The challenge of populating these asset management initiatives with suitable people and empowering them with the authority and accountability to achieve of the company's goals is becoming evident as more utilities implement asset management programs. The professionals driving these initiatives are looking at their next steps with greater scrutiny than ever before.

The overarching theme of the 3rd Annual CEATI Asset Management Conference is "Taking the Next Step in the Asset Management Journey". The topics for presentation were identified by CEATI's Asset Management Interest Group (AMIG) and Strategic Asset Management Program (SAMP) members as their central areas of interest for 2019.
